

Executive Director's Report

Drew Bush
Annual Meeting
Mount Washington Observatory
June 1, 2024

One Year Ago...

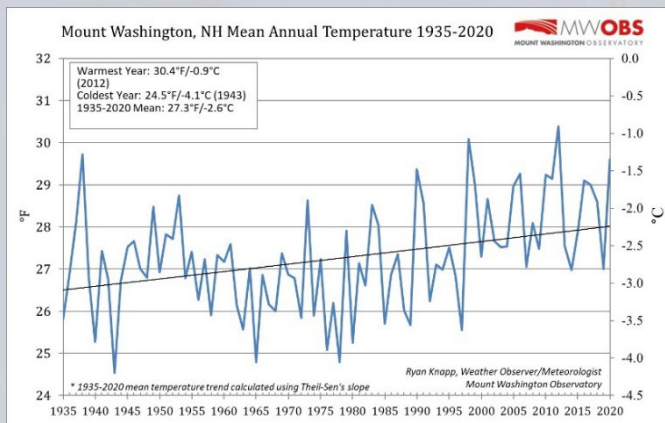

Three Pillars for the Next 90 Years

Education and Outreach

Research and Technology

Researcher services

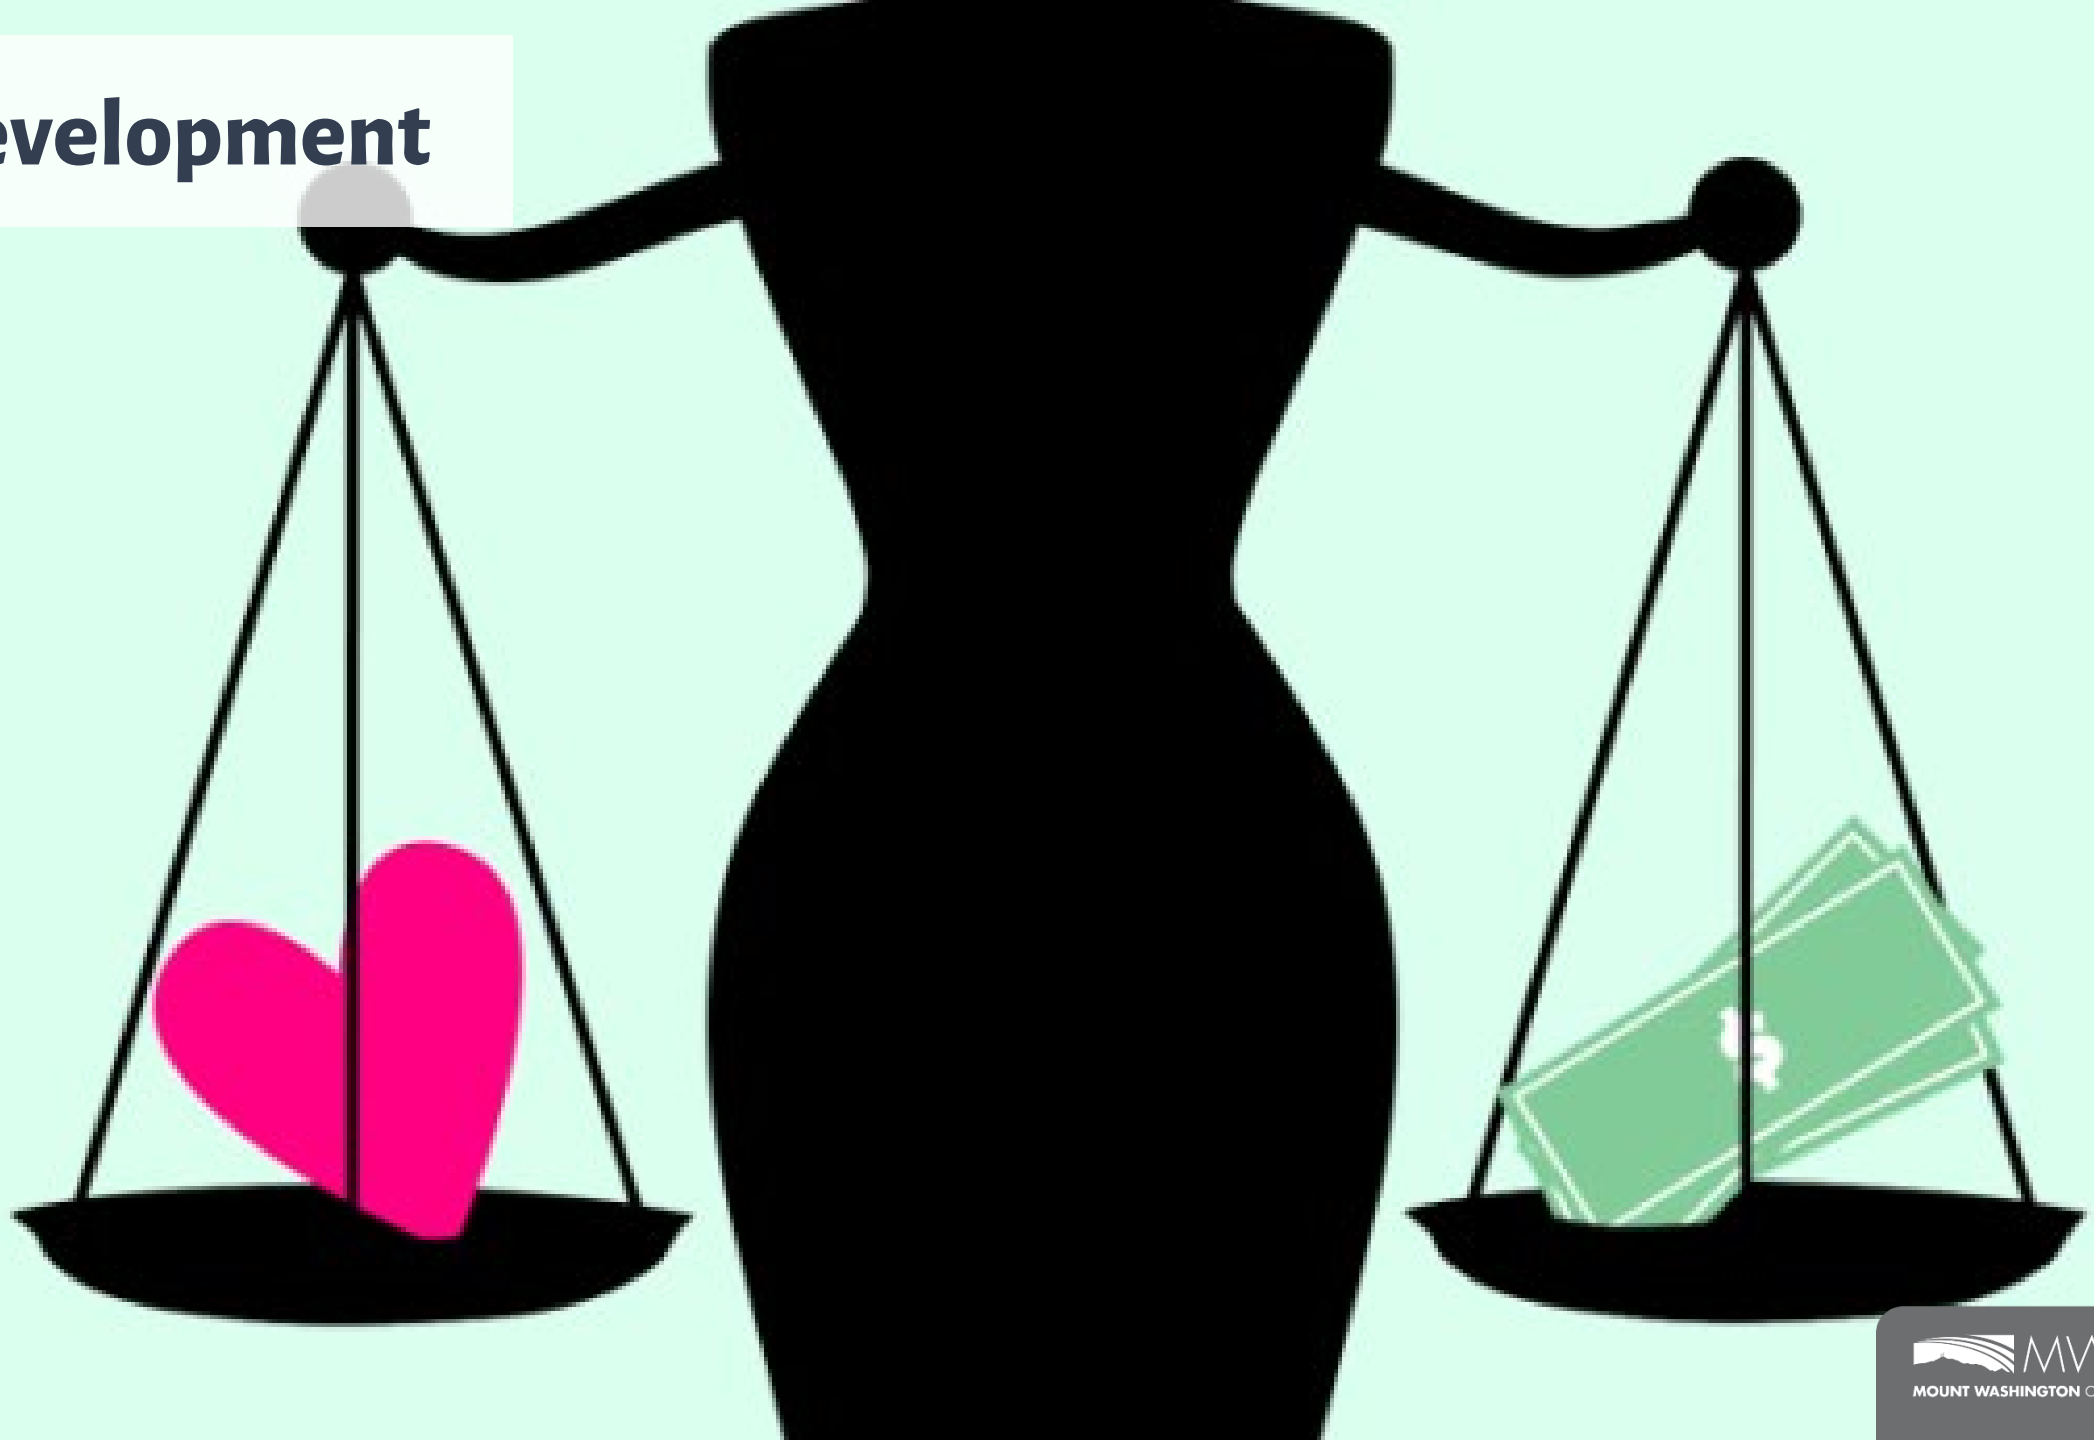

Well-supported internship program, with diversity component

Undergraduate Research Adventures

Development

Where We Are Today...

Accessibility to Mount Washington

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH AND TECHNOLOGY

- Expanded Workforce Training and Diversity Internship Programs
- Joint internships with United States Forest Service, NOAA, Appalachian Mountain Club, Hubbard Brook Ecosystem Study
- Undergraduate Adventures in Meteorology
- Visiting Scholars Program

EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

- New school day, afterschool, virtual, and field trip programs
- Public weather station tours
- Summer teacher professional development and youth day camp
- A return to full winter trips schedule
- Assessment and improvement of Extreme Mount Washington Museum and other interpretative exhibits
- Better stewardship of our collections

RECREATION AND SAFETY

- Better public access to our forecasts and data
- New streamable weather products and content for media partners
- Personalized, tailored forecasts

Educational Field Trips for Schools, Camps, and Adults

Research for All Ages

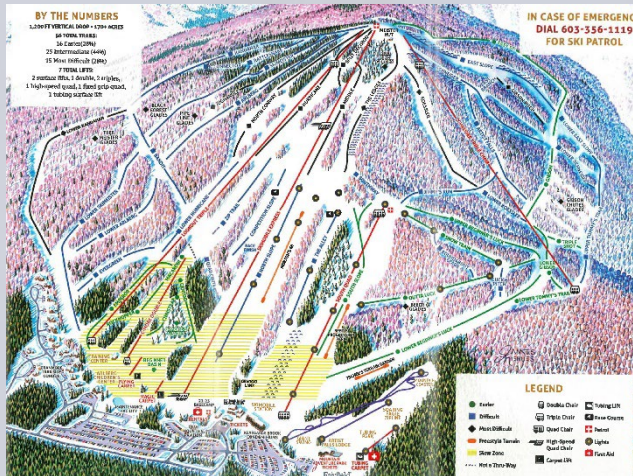

EVERSOURCE

Engaging New Communities with Safety

Tourism-based partnerships

Work with safety community

New media partnerships

Reaching metropolitan regions

Risk Management

KEEPING OUR STAFF AND VISITORS SAFE

- Updated our organizational safety plan
- Reviewing incidents bi-annually, as required
- Providing medical training for summit staff
- Developing a crisis communications plan
- Improving the maintenance of our summit facility with an eye toward future renovations

RISK ASSESSMENT
& SAFETY PLANNING

Federal Support for Our Work

24TH ANNUAL

seekTM THE peak

Earn gear & support the Obs!

Seek your peak.
Any hike. Any day.

Meet & celebrate at the Expo at Great Glen Trails

APRÈS HIKE EXPO • JULY 20

www.seekthepeak.org

Thank You!

Drew Bush

dbush@mountwashington.org

(603)356-2137x218